

Frontiering™ Breakthroughs in your Personal Science

A Leadering™ Paradigm Program

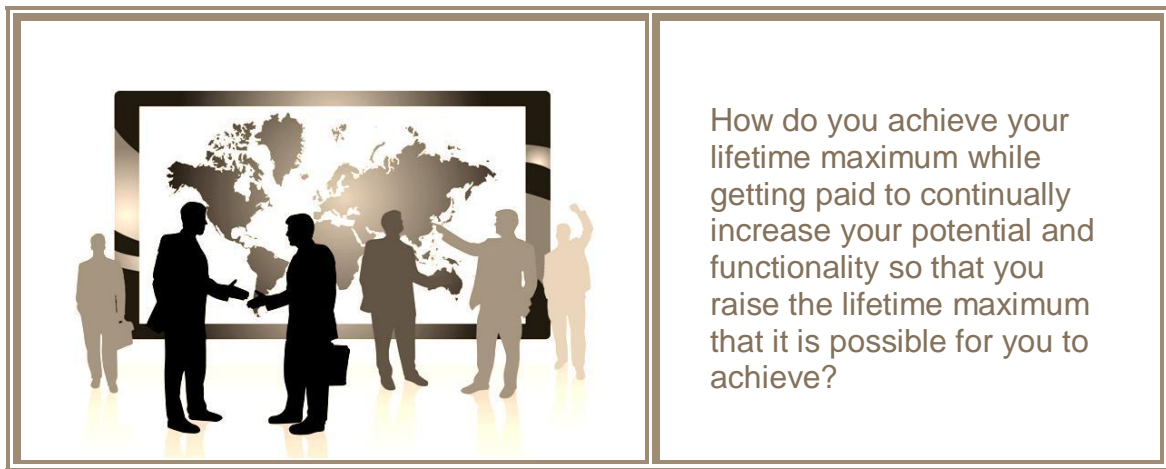

Frontiering™ Breakthroughs in your Personal Science

Frontiering™ Breakthroughs in your Personal Science

Next Program: September 15th, 2008

This 6-month program under the guidance of Lauren Holmes (Leadering's developer) groups 10 people via telephone and internet to take the Leadering™ Paradigm Shift program together and then apply the Leadering Paradigm to advance their personal science to the highest levels of achievement, meaning, and profitability.

This program supports individuals and groups in capitalizing on the Leadering paradigm to achieve specific project goals which break through new frontiers of existing knowledge. It is based on applying the key talents and the 'personal science' that has built up or can be built up around each individual to do the work they would be passionate about pursuing given unlimited resources and freedom.

Leadering™ is the personal art and science of evolutionary anthropologist and leadership expert, Lauren Holmes. It encapsulates all of the territories she is passionate about and ideally suited to pursue and excel at. If you want to develop breakthroughs in fields and disciplines of the magnitude that Leadering does, then here finally is a program and a technology which will let you do it. Learn from someone who has already done it.

This program is renewable for successive 6-month periods if you want to simultaneously use your 'frontiering' to accelerate the development of your functionality and expertise within the Leadering paradigm while accelerating your speed of breakthroughs.

Included 'lifetime' memberships: support forums, affiliate program, mailing list, support services listings access, community events, weekly group Q&A telecalls; + 2-year supplier community
Fee: $10,000US Affiliate Referral Commission: $500US

